Deciding alone is risky. Being informed is strategic.

At HUMINT, we support CEOs in high-stakes moments — when everything seems under control, but the real risk lies beneath the surface.

- Restructuring of the Executive Committee or Board
- Sensitive nominations or multi-dimensional decisions

- The need for an external, independent, unfiltered perspective

What you get

- A confidential map of real influence networks
- Insights into weak signals, silences, and dissonant patterns
- Tactical support before any critical decision

How we work

- Discreet and regular strategic exchanges
- Targeted HUMINT scan on a person, a team, or a blind spot
- Silent observation during strategic meetings
- Advanced behavioral decoding of ambiguous profiles
